

FRIARS CARSE HOTEL

Wedding Review

Our wedding at the Friars Carse Hotel on 16th August 2008 was absolutely brilliant.

Our wedding co-ordinator, Arlene, and all the staff were wonderful and did everything we asked for and more, before, during and after the wedding. Thanks to them the whole day went without a hitch.

The meal was faultless and the one complaint we had from one of our guests was that there was too much roast beef! The evening buffet was also excellent and plentiful.

The grounds surrounding this venue are stunning and the photos do not do them justice. After days of rain the sun came out and allowed us to get married outside on the lawn by the river which just made the whole day perfect, completely exceeding our expectations.

My husband's favourite part of the whole thing was the price of the package - he's a Scot who loves value for money and we most certainly got that. They even surprised us with chocolate fountains (milk and white) with a wonderful assortment of fresh fruit and other goodies for dipping, which went down a storm with the guests and not just the younger ones!

The only negative thing we could say is that the honeymoon suite was in need of a makeover, but we believe that was on the agenda and has probably been done by now.

If you're thinking about booking Friars Carse for your wedding, we would highly recommend it . . . you will not be disappointed.
