

FRIARS CARSE HOTEL

Wedding Review

Our wedding at the Friars Carse Country House Hotel on Saturday, 21st June 2008 was amazing. The day went very well and my new husband and I enjoyed every minute. Although the rain poured all day, and I was later told that Dumfries was the wettest part of Scotland that day it was still the greatest day of our lives and we will never forget it. The bad weather did not dampen anyone's spirits and the ceremony and reception went flawlessly. We were lucky enough for the rain to stop for 15/20 minutes so we had the chance to get some photos outside on the lawn and to make use of the hotels stunning grounds.

The first time we went to the Friars Carse we fell in love with the stunning location of the hotel and the ambience of its situation I knew that it would be an ideal location for our wedding. It's quiet and peaceful and that is just what my new husband and I wanted. A traditional Scottish wedding and in our case we got traditional Scottish weather.

We would like to thank the staff at the Friars Carse for all their hard work and in particular Arlene Porteous, the events/wedding coordinator at the Friars Carse who did a marvellous job and helped towards making our special day perfect."
